We will make a systematic effort to publish in book form the History of Peculomate County, as written by the Bee Win, T. Princ, the bulk of which his been published in the Peculomate Times. Our reasons for this are many, and the re-seems to be a general demand that the valuable historical matter collected by the writer, typecenting many year's work, should be precieved in enduring form Last year this publication was proyect and a considerable number of three hundred more topics well before it would justify publishing as large a book as this will naive. A harrowing Incident

A bashful young man of Grantsville, W. Va., was invited out to dine last Monday evening. He was very much agitated. He sat has he had forgotton to comb his hair. Then he dropped his fork onto the floor, and as he stooped to pick it up he upset his coffee.

Matters went from bad to worse man quit catting and put his hands under the table. The loose end of the table cloth lay in his lap.
When he touched it the young man curred pale to he thought in had forgotton to put his shirt on the inside of his trousers. That accounted for the smiles and the maharassment. He hurriedly stuffed the supposed shirt back in trousers. From the table there was a crash and the dishes by in young man pulled three feet of table cloth from his patts and fled to the woods.—The Signal.

A Soldier of the Phillipines tells of his Experiences

One Sunday last October being in Washington we decided to spend a few quiet restful hours in the soological garden with the annuals, as a good way of passingthe Sabbath. The park is a favorite resert to children and animal low the seen there under particularly lavorable circumstances. The park is like the primitive forest in many places and the management has consulted the comfort of the animals whenever it was possible. Early in the day we found ourselves gazing at cassowary from the plains of Timbuctoo in company with a man of about so years of age who carried us off to see some birds he had shot in the Philippines.

One word led to another and I soon became acquainted with the requisition. He was a shorenaker by trade and in 1878 harditimes came on and he was unable to get a job, being city bred. He was a German by birth and could not speak our language at that time word.
